All the vinyls, faux leathers and fabrics here are:

- Robust to cope with high traffic in busy environments
- Flame retardant to minimize fire risk where people come together to work or relax in numbers
- Water resistant to protect foam seat pads
- Antimicrobial to render the fabric functionally active to inhibit the growth of hazardous microbes, creating an added layer of defence and prolonging the life of the fabric
- Stain resistant allowing more time to remove spillages and soiling preventing stains
- Easy to clean and resilient to infection control cleaning protocols and chemicals
- Please note that upholstery vinyls may be susceptible to the transfer of dye from one fabric (trousers, dresses etc) to another (upholstery). If crocking is noticed straight away, it may be removed with mild alkali free soap and cold water. However, if left, it will become permanent.
If crocking is a concern, select a mid or dark colourway for upholstery.
